From the Logan Leader:

A good article of brick is now being manufactured at Providence by Fred Theurer.

T. O. Angell, Jr., Esq., has recently purchased of John Whitney, Esq., of Mendon, the coal black Morgan stallion, "Midnight." We understand the price to be $500.

From the Southern Utah Times:

Efforts have been made to induce the proprietor of the Grampian Saloon to sell out and thus close up the liquor business in the immediate vicinity of the Horn Silver Mine.

A plucky Frisco girl stepped into a dentist shop the other evening and seizing a pair of forceps, yanked out a troublesome tooth in a jiffy. She says she can spit through her teeth on the bias now.

A letter from John Shumer to a friend in Frisco, says that he has purchased a fine fruit farm in Southern California and settled down for life. His friends here wish him much success in his new field of labor.

From the Silver Reef Miner:

Strangers are arriving in the Reef daily.

Watermelons are plentiful, and Poor Lo is happy.

There are no patients in the Sisters' Hospital—the first time in nearly two years.

William Mulcahy received a painful flesh wound by the falling of a slab at the Buckeye mine yesterday. Salt trains continue to arrive. Our mining companies are making so much money they have to salt it down.

The new 54-inch boiler for the California mine was landed at the works during the week. It is not only one of the largest, but by far the best-finished piece of work of its kind ever brought in the district.

The Grand Gulch copper mines are being successfully worked by Messrs. Adams & Co. Upwards of seven tons of copper ingots were the product of the experimental run prior to putting in the water jacket.

From the Southern Utahian:

The first ascent of Mt. Baldy by a lady, was made by Miss Ida E. Bardwell, last Sunday, the 14th inst. She was accompanied by Mr. Norman Woodhouse. Starting early in the morning they rode on horseback to the timber line at the head of Indian Creek Canyon, where they dismounted and proceeded to climb to the summit, which they succeeded in doing in about four hours—attaining a height from the sea level of about 12,500 feet.

From the Park City Record:

Kidder's new planing mill is nearly completed.

The Catholic Church is approaching completion.

The schoolhouse is about ready for occupation.

Prof. Weihe is so well pleased with his success that he proposes giving a series of soirees during the coming winter.

The sinking pump at the Empire has given out and the water is back into the shaft again, up to the 300-level.

Two hundred and thirty tons of castings, etc., for the Ontario new works, have already arrived.

Another rich strike is reported in Snake Creek, but we could learn nothing as to the extent of the vein or value of the ore.

An additional force will be put to work on the Bonanza next week, when the work of following the vein from the 200 to the 400 level will be commenced.

A gentleman of this city, who is in a position to know whereof he affirms, says that our statement that this camp has produced $180,000 more than Butte this season is quite correct, and that if the production of the Butte mines doubles next year they will not be ahead of the Park, for the Ontario Company will probably have a new mill by that time, when the shipments will range between $400,000 and $500,000 a month.

IDAHO.

From the Bear Lake Democrat:

There is a contest pending between Hon. W. H. Hooper and David Wright, for the ownership of the 90 per cent. springs at Soda.

The unusually warm weather in Bear Lake the present summer has been succeeded by unprecedented rain storms, which has caused the streams adjacent to St. Charles to overflow their banks as if the snow was just going off in the spring of the year.

One of the greatest proofs of the healthiness of our mountain home is the fact, that while the thermometer in Bear Lake Valley occasionally touches as high points as those which in New York and other eastern cities causes great loss of life, no one here seems to be particularly inconvenienced.

The late rains will probably save us from the fires that usually devastate our mountain forests at this season of the year.

At a meeting of delegates in Paris last Saturday, it was unanimously resolved that Montpellier be recommended to the railroad authorities as the choice of the people for the location of a depot for Bear Lake Valley. Messrs. Wm. Budge and George Osmond were appointed to wait upon Sidney Dillon, Esq., President of the U. P. R. R., on his arrival here, and confer with him in relation to the matter.

Harvest will be in full blast in the northern part of this valley next week, but there is considerable late grain that will require two or three weeks yet to ripen.

From the Wood River News:

Trout are as plentiful in the Wood River towns and settlements as watermelons in Missouri. It is no uncommon thing to see a dozen men and boys pass up from the river through town, on their way home in the evening, well loaded with speckled beauties, generally from one-fourth to a pound in weight.

The horse racing season is over, and now they are trying to rustle up a Sunday school in Hailey. The Times says the festival given last Tuesday evening for that purpose netted $400. We can remember a time this summer when one of the best preachers on the coast couldn't rustle a corporal's guard in Hailey on Sunday—but then the town dads had the crowd out "betting a half" on the result of a "sure thing" between a couple of sore-backed cayuses.

There was a stampede a few weeks ago from the other side, says the Idaho World. It has been reported that Dr. Peters, of Silver, struck placer lode somewhere between Copeland and Salmon, but was keeping it low in order to get his friends in ahead of all others. When the doctor passed through about a month ago for that region, a party made up at Placerville and Centerville and took his track. Their grub gave out and the crowd returned without reaching the supposed land of gold. A trio of prospectors from Placerville, that went in a crowd by themselves, "will follow up the doctor if he goes clean to Hades."

The long talked of project for the construction of a canal to bring the waters of Cottonwood Creek down to Round Valley for irrigating purposes, is at last assuming proportions that will no doubt soon result in the cultivation of a large extent of country directly east and south of Round Valley Marsh, and which would otherwise remain worthless. Mr. Frank Riblett, county surveyor of Cassia County, has surveyed a route for the canal from Cottonwood Creek to a point this side of the divide, where the water will flow into Stockton Creek, and from a point where the water will be again taken from Stockton Creek to the land sought to be irrigated. This survey demonstrates that the scheme is entirely practicable, and only requires a little enterprise and capital to accomplish the desired object. Both of these forces are now at work, and the irrigation of several thousand acres of good soil, only needing water to make it valuable, will soon be an accomplished fact.—Idaho Enterprise.

From the Blackfoot Register:

Travel to Wood River seems to be on the increase, the coach going out loaded nearly every morning.

The postoffice at Blackfoot has been designated as a money order office.

Mrs. Noyes has, we understand, withdrawn the offer of a reward of $500 for the apprehension of Ayres and Green.

Theo. Danilson came up yesterday from American Falls, where he has his ferry boat running. He has already crossed over 25,000 sheep, and is doing a first-class business.

WYOMING.

From the Carbon County Journal:

Scott Lilly met with a serious accident while hunting antelope near the Ferris Mountains, Thursday. It appears that he had already fired one cartridge, and in pumping a second into the chamber of his Winchester the cartridge exploded, severely burning his face and eyes. He was unable to see anything but his mule came up to him and he was able to mount. He wandered around over the prairie calling loudly for help. His cries attracted the attention of George Birmingham who came to his assistance and he was placed in a wagon and brought in to town and placed under Dr. Maghee's charge. He will probably lose one if not both his eyes.

George F. Dawson was killed in a fight in Cheyenne last Saturday night, he receiving a blow on the head which fractured the skull, and penetrated the brain. The coroner's jury in their verdict found that the wound was inflicted by one of three parties, viz: C. H. Landreth, James Crawford or Frank Barnes.

Shot Through the Liver.

The editor glanced at the visitor's sagely, as he came forward and remarked that he didn't think the President would die.

"It was at the battle of Malvern hill," he went on to say, "I was in command of a battery stationed opposite the enemy's left, and was about giving an order, when a ball struck me—"

"Sdeath!" interrupted the frenzied editor. "Another man shot through the liver," and, seizing the battle-scarred hero about the binnacle, he rushed him into the dim, religious light of the hallway. The girl who swept down the stairs next morning picked enough rent clothing to stuff a pillow case.
